

Town of Cuba Police Department

2016 Year End Report

During 2016 the department underwent some changes that I feel are for the betterment of the Police Department and the Cuba community. Calls to service decreased by 14% and the number of criminal cases has increased by 24%. The decrease in calls to service numbers can be directly attributed to a more visible presence with officers monitoring the school zones and walking the school hallways daily as well as selective traffic enforcement grants to place more officers on the lake to deal with the rising speeding issues. I hope the trend continues and the calls to service rate move to a lower and lower number as the years move forward. I am proud to report that the Cuba Police Department has increased our services to the Cuba Community by continuing to offer a neighborhood network, gun safety classes, bullying seminars at the schools, driver education classes at the high school, child safe ID programs, pill drops, car seat installations and a booth at the garlic festival with free information and gun locks handed out. These increases have been made without any cost to the tax payer. We have added a special assignment of school resource officer by partnering with the Cuba Rushford Central School. We have also continued as a satellite training facility for the Southern Tier Law Enforcement Academy. This allows us to train police officers on the firing range as well as in security courses. We have been in our new facility for over a year and the transition into our new facility has made our department more efficient by providing adequate evidence storage as well as proper interview and interrogation space for integrity of evidence and victim/suspect privacy. This facility more accurately represents the quality of police work that the officers of our agency invest into the Cuba Community. Two of our officers (Sgt. Brad Howe and Officer Jim Galatio) received commendations from Senator Kathy Young for their role in a serious child abuse case once again proving their value to our department. Our agency continues to work with other outside agencies in a professional manner. We received 2 large grants this year with no match requirement by local tax payers. One of these grants was for new radar equipment for our police vehicles with a total cost of $3000.00 and the second was for camera recording equipment for our arrest processing room and our interview room, the total value of this grant was approximately $10,000.00. Although there is still some controversy across the county as it relates to police officers and the tough job they must do, we feel an overwhelming amount of support in our community and our officers are of the highest quality in my opinion. One of the activities that our officers participate in that I am most proud of is their continued commitment to community service. Some of these events this year included “Shop with a Cop”, “Coffee with a Cop”, 2 female firearms courses, Riding on school buses with children and taking the time to mentor them, eating lunch at the school with students, making a young man by the name of Johnathan Bennett an honorary police officer with the Cuba Police Department and allowing him to spend the day with officers helping out during dairy week. These actions speak volumes to the type of Police Department Cuba has and I am very proud to be able to be the Police Chief for such a professional and caring group of men. These officers make me look so good every day and they make our profession look good.

Going forward the Cuba Police Department hopes that there will be continued cooperation between the new Town and Village Boards as well as other government agencies to enhance the quality of life for the Cuba community. After review of this report, I welcome any comments that you may have.

Respectfully,

Dustin T. Burch
Chief of Police
